

People came from many different countries to settle in Canada.

They travelled by land and water.

They built homes of logs and sod.

